Borneo Rainforest

by Simon Chapman

Publisher: London : Franklin Watts, 2020

Section: Children Non-Fiction

Call Number: English 915 CHA

Simon is flying to the island of Borneo in the South China Sea. He plans to travel by boat and plane, and trek through one of the world's oldest rainforests to find orangutans in their natural equatorial habitat. He'll be sketching some of the island's 1,000s of species of tree, mammal and bird along the way. Simon Chapman, winner of the Blue Peter Book Award, brings geography to life, and his Expedition Diaries are a great way to introduce the world's biomes and habitats to children.

The Leaf Detective : How Margaret Lowman Uncovered Secrets In The Rainforest

by Heather Lang and Jana Christy

Publisher: New York : Calkins Creek, an imprint of Boyds Mills & Kane,

Section: Children Non-Fiction

Call Number: English 915 CHA

As a scientist, Meg set out to climb up and investigate the rain forest tree canopies-- and to be the first scientist to do so. But she encountered challenge after challenge. Male teachers would not let her into their classrooms, the high canopy was difficult to get to, and worst of all, people were logging and clearing the forests. Meg never gave up or gave in. She studied, invented, and persevered, not only creating a future for herself as a scientist, but making sure that the rainforests had a future as well.
